James R. Hicks

Jim Hicks is a veteran lawyer whose practice is focused on the litigation and transactional needs of individuals and businesses. His broad career experience and knowledge base allows him to advise clients on day-to-day legal and operational matters, resolve workplace and business-related disputes, and assist clients in achieving their business objectives. Jim's counseling and transactional practice encompasses every phase of a business's life and includes entity formation and organization, corporate governance, contract drafting and negotiations, mergers and acquisitions, divestitures, financing, construction and development and real estate. His litigation practice experience is equally diverse and includes commercial disputes, construction, directors' and officers' liability, dental malpractice and real estate. He also counsels clients on workplace matters arising from the employer-employee relationship. In addition to having extensive experience as a commercial litigator in state, federal and appellate courts, Jim's practice is also devoted to representing clients in probate, estate planning and family law matters.

Jim is currently serving as President of the Board of Governors of the Oklahoma Bar Association for 2022. He most recently served as President of the Tulsa County Bar Association in 2013-14 and as President of the Tulsa County Bar Foundation. Jim also serves as the Senior Warden of St. John's Episcopal Church in Tulsa, Oklahoma for eight (8) years. He was named Oklahoma Bar Association's Outstanding Young Lawyer, 1995; Tulsa County Bar Association's Outstanding Young Lawyer, 1993, and recipient of the TCBA President's Award, 1992.

Recognitions: selected to the Oklahoma Super Lawyers® list in 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013 2014 and 2015; AV® Preeminent™ Rated Lawyer for the last seventeen (17) years. Voted by the readers of Oklahoma Magazine as Best Attorney in the 2011 "Best of the Best" and again in 2012.
